

LEQEMBI Companion® Program Annual Reverification Overview

Below are key dates and other important information for healthcare providers regarding the annual reverification process.

Reverification is an opportunity to:

- Check patient benefits for LEQEMBI® (lecanemab-irmb) coverage in the new calendar year
- Select other program offerings for which the patient may be eligible
- Reverify eligibility for patients whose Patient Assistance Program (PAP) enrollment expires December 31, 2026

Key Dates for PAP Eligibility Reverification

Beginning November 1, 2026

- The LEQEMBI Companion program will begin accepting enrollment forms for 2027 reverification
- Prescribers may also initiate reverification requests by enrolling patients or uploading documents through LEQEMBIEnrollment.com. The program will follow up to confirm next steps once received
- PAP patients' HCPs and infusion sites of care (if applicable) will be notified of enrollment expiration

Beginning December 1, 2026

- If the LEQEMBI Companion program does not receive a new enrollment form, an Access & Reimbursement Manager may reach out to you. Additionally, a letter will be sent to your enrolled patients notifying them of their PAP enrollment expiration date

Beginning January 2, 2027

- If a new enrollment is submitted, reverification takes place
- The LEQEMBI Companion program will reach out with benefit verification results and next steps

You and your patient may enroll or submit documents digitally by visiting LEQEMBIEnrollment.com or by scanning the QR code with your smartphone
